

Gaga was a side-project including ECC members. A live-only group, Gaga borrowed it's percussion-heavy style from Crash Worship but included many more experimental elements. This cassette is packaged in a pocket of two oversized playing cards, with liner notes printed on standard playing cards. Gaga also offered short run cassettes of other past live shows sold only at their various live shows.