

In this episode: ECC of the past. Master tapes of early Evolution Control Committee music burst open wide, revealing numerous songs that haven't been heard in a while,

or ever:

The ECC's

very early tape cut-up

Heartbroken Hotel, The IGA Giant Pineapple Party,

MelloDeath's

Been Caught Stealing,

The Acid Family,

a newer track combining 30-odd version of California Dreaming, and much more. Also including some original sample source tracks, such as the Sammy Davis Jr. track that provided the music for Want A Cookie.

Peppered with news headlines from TradeMark and Frilly. Listen below or
