

The Evolution Control Committee... in a psychedelic rock show?

Why not? &quot;The weirder, the better&quot;; as psych-rock band Floorian put it to us, describing how they'd like their album release show to be. This Saturday's show celebrates their release of their new album

Cosmosiac

, and jangly popsters

Psychic Wheels

are also on the bill. Floorian's been around since 1997, refining their sound into &quot;an ideal late-night listening experience&quot;;

(as The Big Takeover described their previous album).

A TradeMark® observation: This show has a dangerous range, in a good way... in Europe, ECC frequently shared the bill with a wide variety of bands in many genres. In the USA, it's often much narrower. Nice to get on a local bill like this. :-)

I can tell you that The ECC will bring the VidiMasher 3000.

I can't tell you just what you'll hear come out of it.

This is the last ECC show for the near future.

WHAT: Floorian album release party w/The ECC and Psychic Wheels
